Aldermen Adopt Resolution With Falconer Casting Only Negative Vote.

HIS ATTITUDE SCORED

Debate Develops Into a Series of Attacks on Objector.

CALLED OBSTRUCTIONIST

Measure Also Provides for Similar Honor to Dr. Weizmann, TNT Inventor.

With Alderman Bruce M. Falconer who blocked the proposal last Tuesday because he "never head of Eincasting the only negative vote, the Board of Aldermen vesterday adopted the resolution bestowing the stein, propounder of the theory of relativity, and Dr. Chaim Weizmann, inventor of TNT, who are in this country representing the international Zionist movement. The original resolution was amended, eliminating the name of the associates of Dr. Einstein and Dr. Weizmann.

The adoption of the resolution was accompanied by a debate as stormy and acrimonious as upon the day of its introduction, in the course of which Alderman Falconer was the object of such severe attacks from the floor that President F. H. La Guardia at times resoluted in a property and a healthy constitution, who loves the fall of the store of the Stone-Fisher Company, Tacoma, Wash.:

"A man with a well balanced mind and a healthy constitution, who loves dent F. H. La Guardia at times re-quested members to modify their criti-cisms to parliamentary terms. After the session Justice Gustave Hartman of the City Court, chairman of the reception committee to the Zionists, asked the Al-Paul Garrett, president of Garrett & Co., Brooklyn:

"My own theory is that rust wears more surely than friction."

Mayor F. K. Knowlton, Rochester:

"I do not believe in the over rush, strenuous times we have been having for the last five years any more than I believe in the inactive life. We are dermen to remain in the chamber long enough to receive his thanks.

Attacked by Party Leader.

The previous question was moved by Aiderman August Ferrand, Republican floor leader, who said:
"For what has occurred in this board I make no apology. It can be charged to no party. It can be charged only to an individual who is arrogant and ignorant. individual who is arrogant and ignorant. We will have to take it from whence it

That pronouncement of Falconer's own party leader closed the attack, which was begun by Alderman William T. Col-lins, Democratic leader, who said that lins, Democratic leader, who said that Falconer's attitude was due to "narrowness and bigotry." and added:

"Alderman Falconer is a descendant of a man who came to America in 1702 as secretary to Lord Cornbury. In those days the job of secretary was to blacken the boots of his lord. It was such people who opposed Washington, and there is no doubt in my mind that a man with such ancestry would oppose an Irishman or a Jew. He is the one obstructionist in this board."

or a Jew. He is the one obstructionist in this board."

Alderman B. C. Vladeck, Socialist leader, held up Falconer as typical of "falconerism" the world over, which, he said, designated that class of bigots who constantly are living on the records of their ancestors and suffer "severe discomfort" at any sort of consideration of a person of to-day who achieves or thinks. "You are a hundred years behind the times, Falconer," he shouled.
Alderman Thomas F. Farley, Democrat, denounced Falconer for "trying to create class hatred in the board and the city."

Palconer Defends His Views.

Falconer, defending his position, said he was for America first, and outlined his ancestry from the days of Lord Cornbury in support of his contention. That view, he said, led him to the belief that foreigners should not be honored with the freedom of the city except un-der very exceptional chromatances. He der very exceptional circumstances. He opposed granting the honor to Dr. Einstein because he had been "assured that he was born in Germany and taken to he was born in Germany and taken to A general alarm was sent out yestermany before the war." That information, he said, was contained in a letter to him from George W. Wickersham, formerly United States Attorney-General, who delivered the address of welcome to Dr. Einstein last Tuesday morning when he was received publicly by the Mayor. The Alderman added that "Mr. Wickersham feels strongly on this subject."

A general alarm was sent out yesterday by the police and the military authorities at Fort Jay for Markos Sakotnos who escaped from Private Ned Bero of the Twenty-second Infantry while being taken from Blackwells Island to Fort Jay. Bero said in West Side Court, where he appeared against John Blizzard of $25 Amsterdam avenue, that he day by the police and the military authorities at Fort Jay for Markos Sakotnos who escaped from Private Ned Bero of the Twenty-second Infantry while being taken from Blackwells Island to Fort Jay for Markos Sakotnos who escaped from Private Ned Bero of the Twenty-second Infantry while being taken from Blackwells Island to Fort Jay.

Dr. Weizmann, Dr. Einstein and their Dr. Weizmann, Dr. Einstein and their associates held a conference with the American Jewish Physicians Committee for the Establishment of a Medical Department of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and received pledges of $1,000,000 from American Jewish physi-$1,000,000 from American Jewish physicians. They conferred also with Felix M. Warburg and Louis Marshall. Many messages were received from various parts of the country pledging support to the Zionist movement. The visitors were guests at the Hotel Commodore at a nuncheon given by New York Jewish newspaper men.

Dr. Einstein visited the College of the City of New York and attended classes in mathematics and physics.

Associate Minister of Central Presbyterian Gives Reason for Retirement.

Between sixty and seventy-five members of the Central Presbyterian Church, Marcy and Jefferson avenues, Brooklyn, have withdrawn from the church following the resignation of the Rev. John Erskine Adams, associate pastor. Among them are Col. Andrew D. Baird, president of the Williamsburg Savings Bank, and Mrs. Harry C. Palmer, president of the Monday Circle of the church. Those who have left the church were members of the Ross Street Presbyterian Church at the time it was consolidated with the larger Central Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Adams, its pastor, became associate pastor.

Dr. John F. Carson, paster of the Centrel Presbyterian Church, was mederater of the Synod of New York State in 1883, and in 1911 and 1913 he was medewater of the Presbyterian General Assomity. During the war he was chairman of the National Service Commission of the church. Both he and Mr. Adams say there was no unifically feeling between them.

his retirement, which took place March 23:

"I resigned because I wanted more independence in action and in policy. I left without the slightest personal feeling against any one. Dr. Carson and I have had differences and it is impossible to adjust them."

He explained that in his opinion it was to the best interests of the church that he resign, and expressed the belief that two preachers were not needed in the pulpit. His salary, he felt, might be used to better advantage for a younger man or two younger men who could make calls and do other outside work in the parish.

Dr. Carson, whose church is the largest of the Presbyterian denomination in New York city, was emphatic in saying that there was no trouble in the church.

"Mr. Adams resigned voluntarily," he said. "Nobody asked him to. We had a conference concerning our plans and he felt I did not approve of his methods and was not satisfied with his work."

He said he asked his associate to reconsider his resignation. In addition there were conferences in which members of the church participated. Dr. Adams stuck to his determination to resign, and was voted a year's salary of $4,000.

"Those who left the church as following Mr. Adams in his pastorate, as "Those who left the church are following Mr. Adams in his pastorate, as they have for twenty-five years or more," Dr. Carson said. "They came when Mr. Adams came at the time of the amalgamation and are devoted to him. It is natural that some would follow him."

Mrs. Harry C. Palmer announced her reeignation as president of the Monday Circle last Monday night. With tears in her eyes she said she was leaving. In her opinion the consolidation had not worked out well.
